

AMPSA LICENSE AGREEMENT

The Ampsa Amplifier Design Wizard (© Copyright 1989-2025 Ampsa (Pty) Ltd) is licensed, not sold. The software is protected by international copyright laws and treaties, as well as intellectual property laws and treaties. All rights on the software, except for those explicitly granted to the licensee in this license agreement, are reserved.

On payment of the relevant license fee, Ampsa grants the licensee the non-exclusive right to use the software on a computer network or on one computer at a time (depending on the license acquired), on the conditions outlined in this agreement. A network license is restricted to a specific site.

The software is protected against unauthorized use. The protection implemented may not be removed or bypassed, and no attempt to do so may be made.

Removal, emulation, or reverse engineering of all or any part of the software or its protection constitutes unauthorized modification and is specifically prohibited. Nothing in this license statement permits the licensee to derive the source or assembly code of files provided to him in executable or object formats.

The software may not be rented, leased, or licensed to third parties.

Subscription (software-based protection) or hardware key licenses can be issued by Ampsa.

The subscription period for a subscription license can be 60 days, or 365 days. Support and upgrades are provided free of charge during the subscription period.

Hardware key licenses do not expire. Support and upgrades are provided free of charge during the first two months after acquiring a license. Thereafter, the support fee is 15% of the license fee, at that time, per year. Renewal of the support is optional. The right to have the software upgraded is withdrawn automatically if the software has been out of support for more than a year.

The licensee is responsible for securing the hardware key against loss or theft.

Educational subscription licenses can be provided to registered educational institutions. These licenses are provided at a discounted rate. No consulting work or contract work are allowed on an educational license.

A hardware key license may be transferred to a third party if the third party agrees to the terms and conditions of this license agreement. Support and upgrade agreements are not transferable. Subscription licenses are also not transferable.

If a hardware key license is transferred and support and upgrades are required by the third party, a new support agreement will be required. This support option will only be available if it is requested at the time of the transfer, and if support on the software is still active on the transfer date.

Ampsa warrants that the software performs substantially as described in the help files provided with the software. Liability shall be limited to correction of any errors reported while the software is under support. Ampsa disclaims all liability for indirect, incidental, or consequent damage resulting from use of the software.

This license agreement will be governed by the laws of South Africa and is subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the South African courts.
